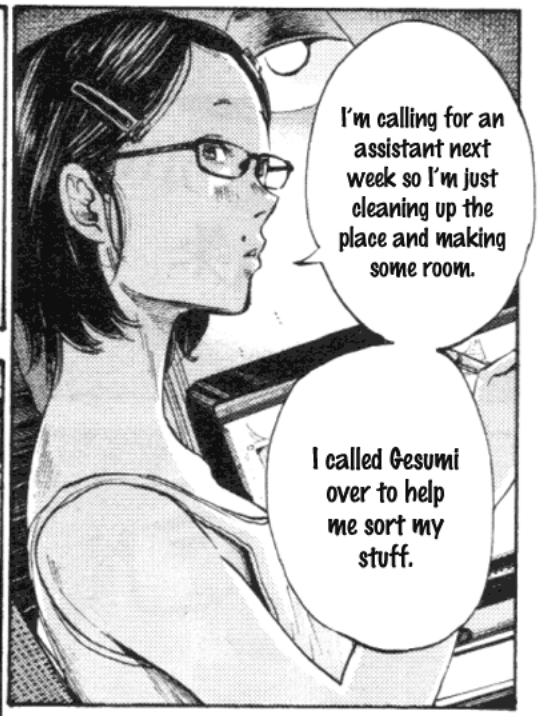
Welcome back, Miyuki!
Gesumi here, reporting, reporting!
Oh, you're here alone, Gesumi? That's rare.

You're even throwing away your graduation album? Aren't you bold...



I'm calling for an assistant next week so I'm just cleaning up the place and making some room.
I called Gesumi over to help me sort my stuff.

Then again,
What I should actually be surprised at is the fact you even kept it until now...

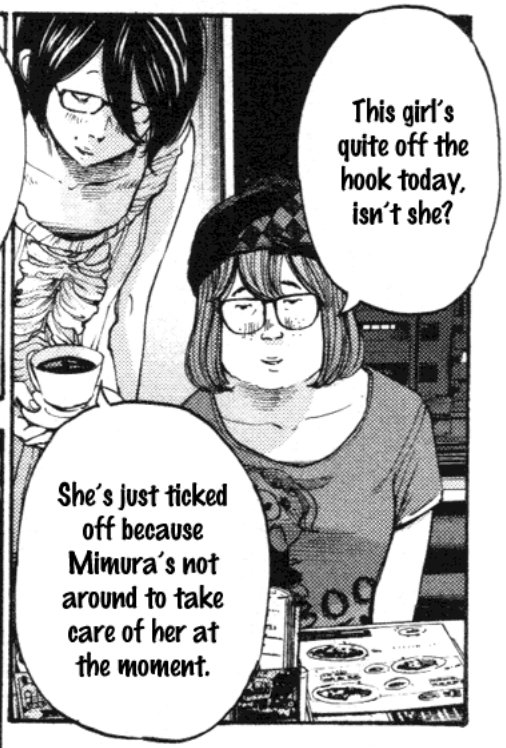
I'm not ticked off!
かぁ
I'm only disappointed at Mimura's flippancy for making promises he can't keep!



This girl's quite off the hook today, isn't she?
She's just ticked off because Mimura's not around to take care of her at the moment.

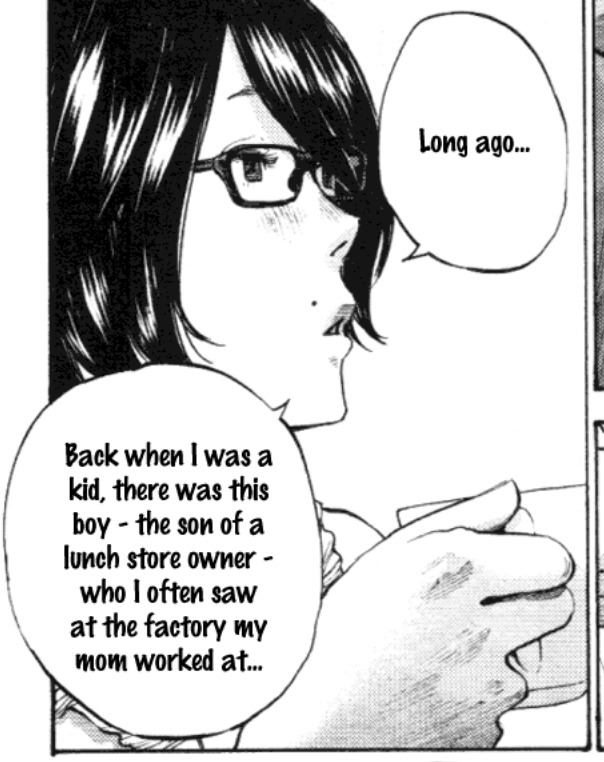
She apparently forces Mimura to mail her at least 3 times a day.
My, isn't that an annoying girlfriend to have.



Long ago...
Back when I was a kid, there was this boy - the son of a lunch store owner - who I often saw at the factory my mom worked at...

Sachi...
You're the kind of person who'd always keep her promises, right?
Oh? Do I sense the start of a lesbo-vibe?

No, not really...
Even I've made promises that I couldn't keep...

I promised him to show show my manga once I finished it,
But I never could in the end...
When I was in middle school, I coincidentally managed to see him again, but my self-consciousness got in the way and I couldn't bring myself to talk to him.
Though I have to point out, it didn't seem like he remembered me at all...

Wouldn't it be great if that boy was reading your manga somewhere right now!?
Not really...
It's already way back in the past.

But even if I were to coincidentally see him again, the chance encounter would still go to waste if I continue on half-heartedly with my life...

It's your everyday actions and mindset that turns those coincidental chances into miracles...

...Or at least, that's what I like telling myself these days.

Thinking of that factory sure takes me back though...

Back in my teens, I pretended to be the cool, mysterious girl so I often gazed at the night sky from there.

And the starry sky I saw then was the motif for my "Milky Way" painting.

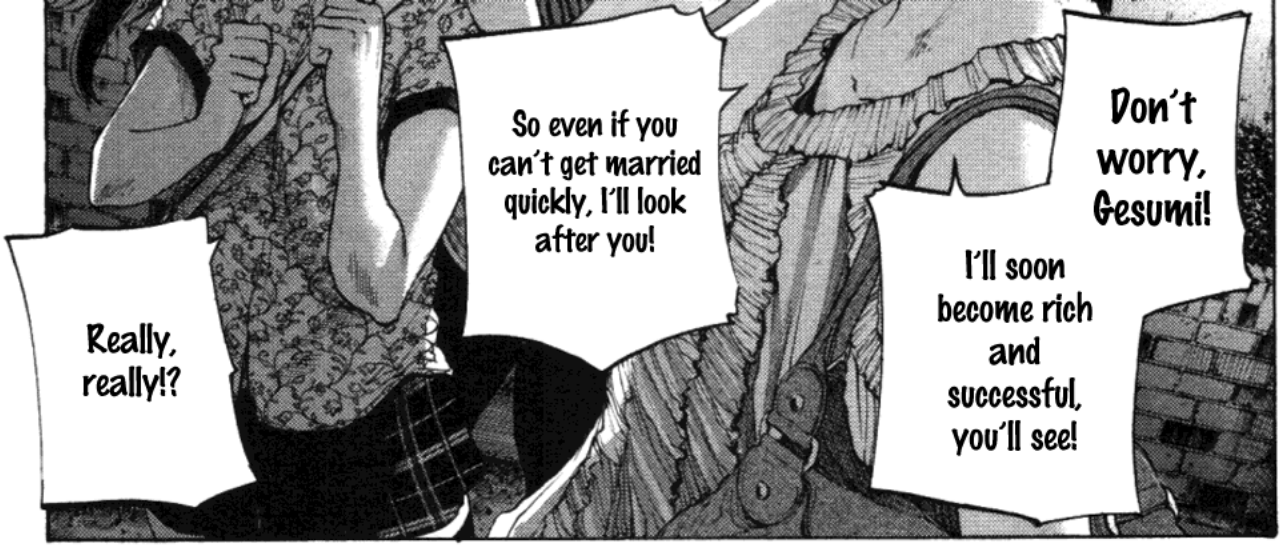
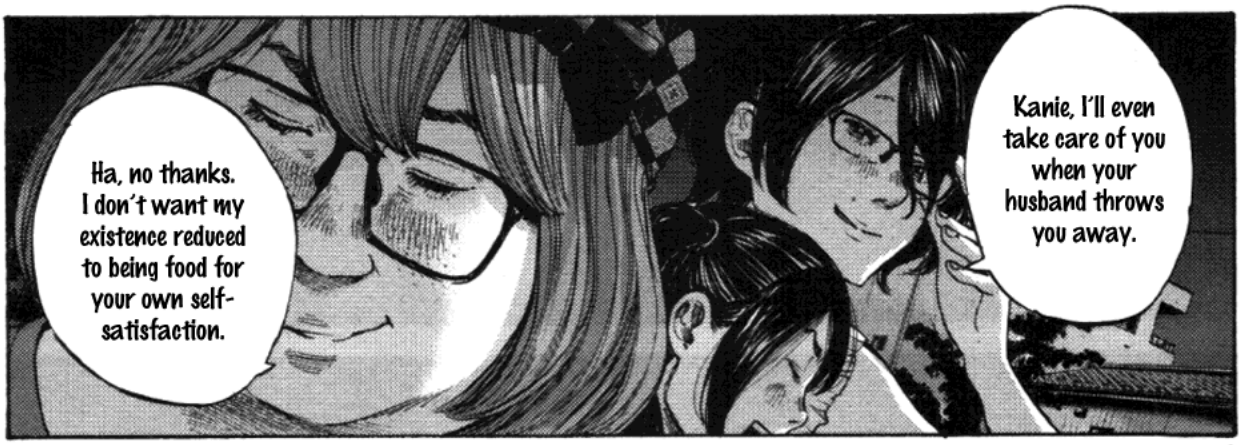
Oh my god! That's such a coincidence!

After all, today's Tanabata! Maybe you'll even be able to see that boy again!

I told you, I don't need any fairy-tale events like that.



Really, really!?
So even if you can't get married quickly, I'll look after you!
Don't worry, Gesumi!
I'll soon become rich and successful, you'll see!



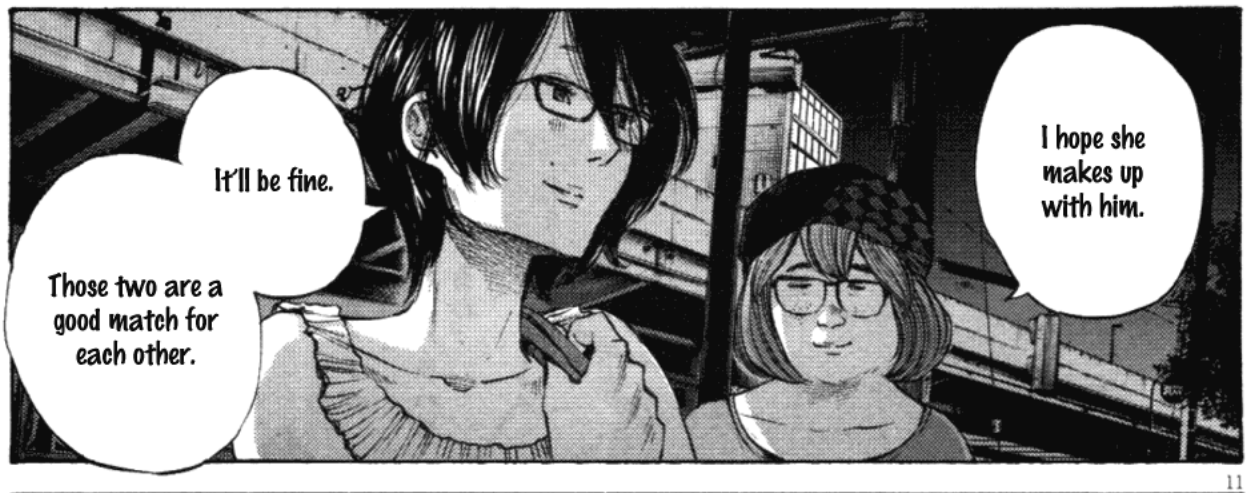
Ha, no thanks. I don't want my existence reduced to being food for your own self-satisfaction.
Kanie, I'll even take care of you when your husband throws you away.

Ahahaha!
VICTORY!
Ugh, you're too heavy, Gesumi...
What's that supposed to mean?

Alright!
Go settle things out with Mimura!
See ya.

Righty, Righty,
I'll be off then!

Yes, I'll drag out his guts and wring his neck with it!



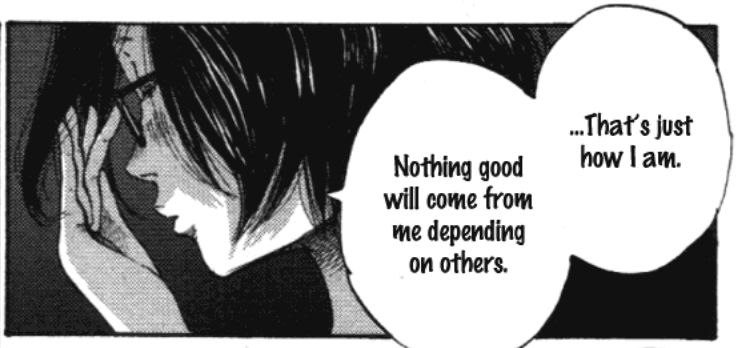
It'll be fine.
Those two are a good match for each other.
I hope she makes up with him.

...Alright, Kanie.
We should head back and start work on the next manuscript...
Hey, Nanjou...

Hm?
Don't push yourself too hard.
You go overboard in always trying to handle everything yourself.
BOOBOO

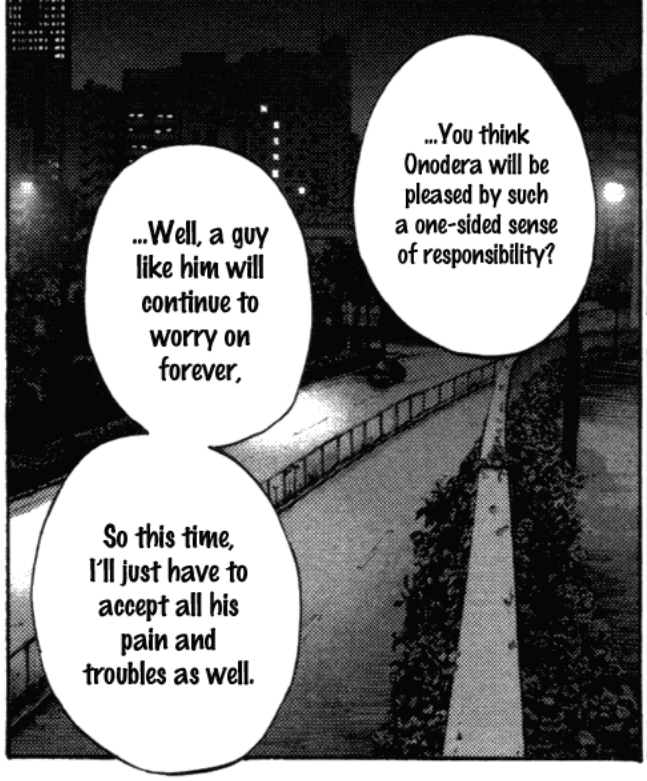
You'll have a baby next year so you ought to pick up a more balanced view.
I get tense from just watching your wheels about to burst at any moment.

Oh...
Sorry for making you feel that way...



...That's just how I am.
Nothing good will come from me depending on others.

Well, it's your own choice whether you wear yourself out, but...
Don't forget that I'd then be just a nuisance for always butting into your affairs out of kind concern.

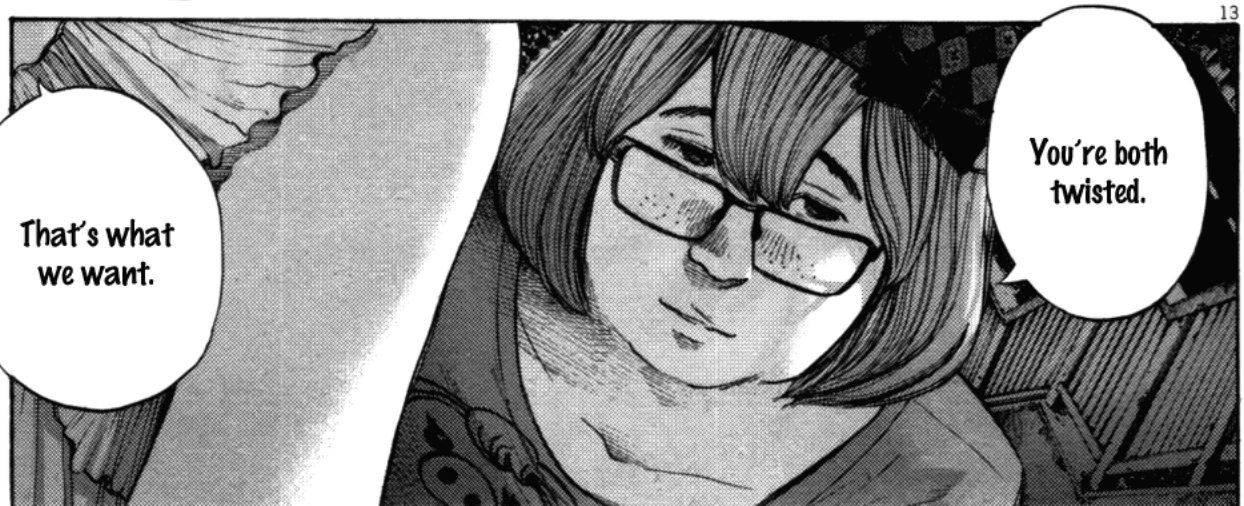


...You think Onodera will be pleased by such a one-sided sense of responsibility?
...Well, a guy like him will continue to worry on forever,
So this time, I'll just have to accept all his pain and troubles as well.

Now if only the problem with Onodera would be settled...

...I'll just have to wait for him to come back.
This isn't about any love I have for him, it's just a matter of me taking responsibility.

...I'm not wishing for any proper happiness.
The two of us are both like that.



You're both twisted.
That's what we want.

Truth be told about that painting,

I've actually never seen the Milky Way.

In a city like this, you can barely make out even third-magnitude stars.

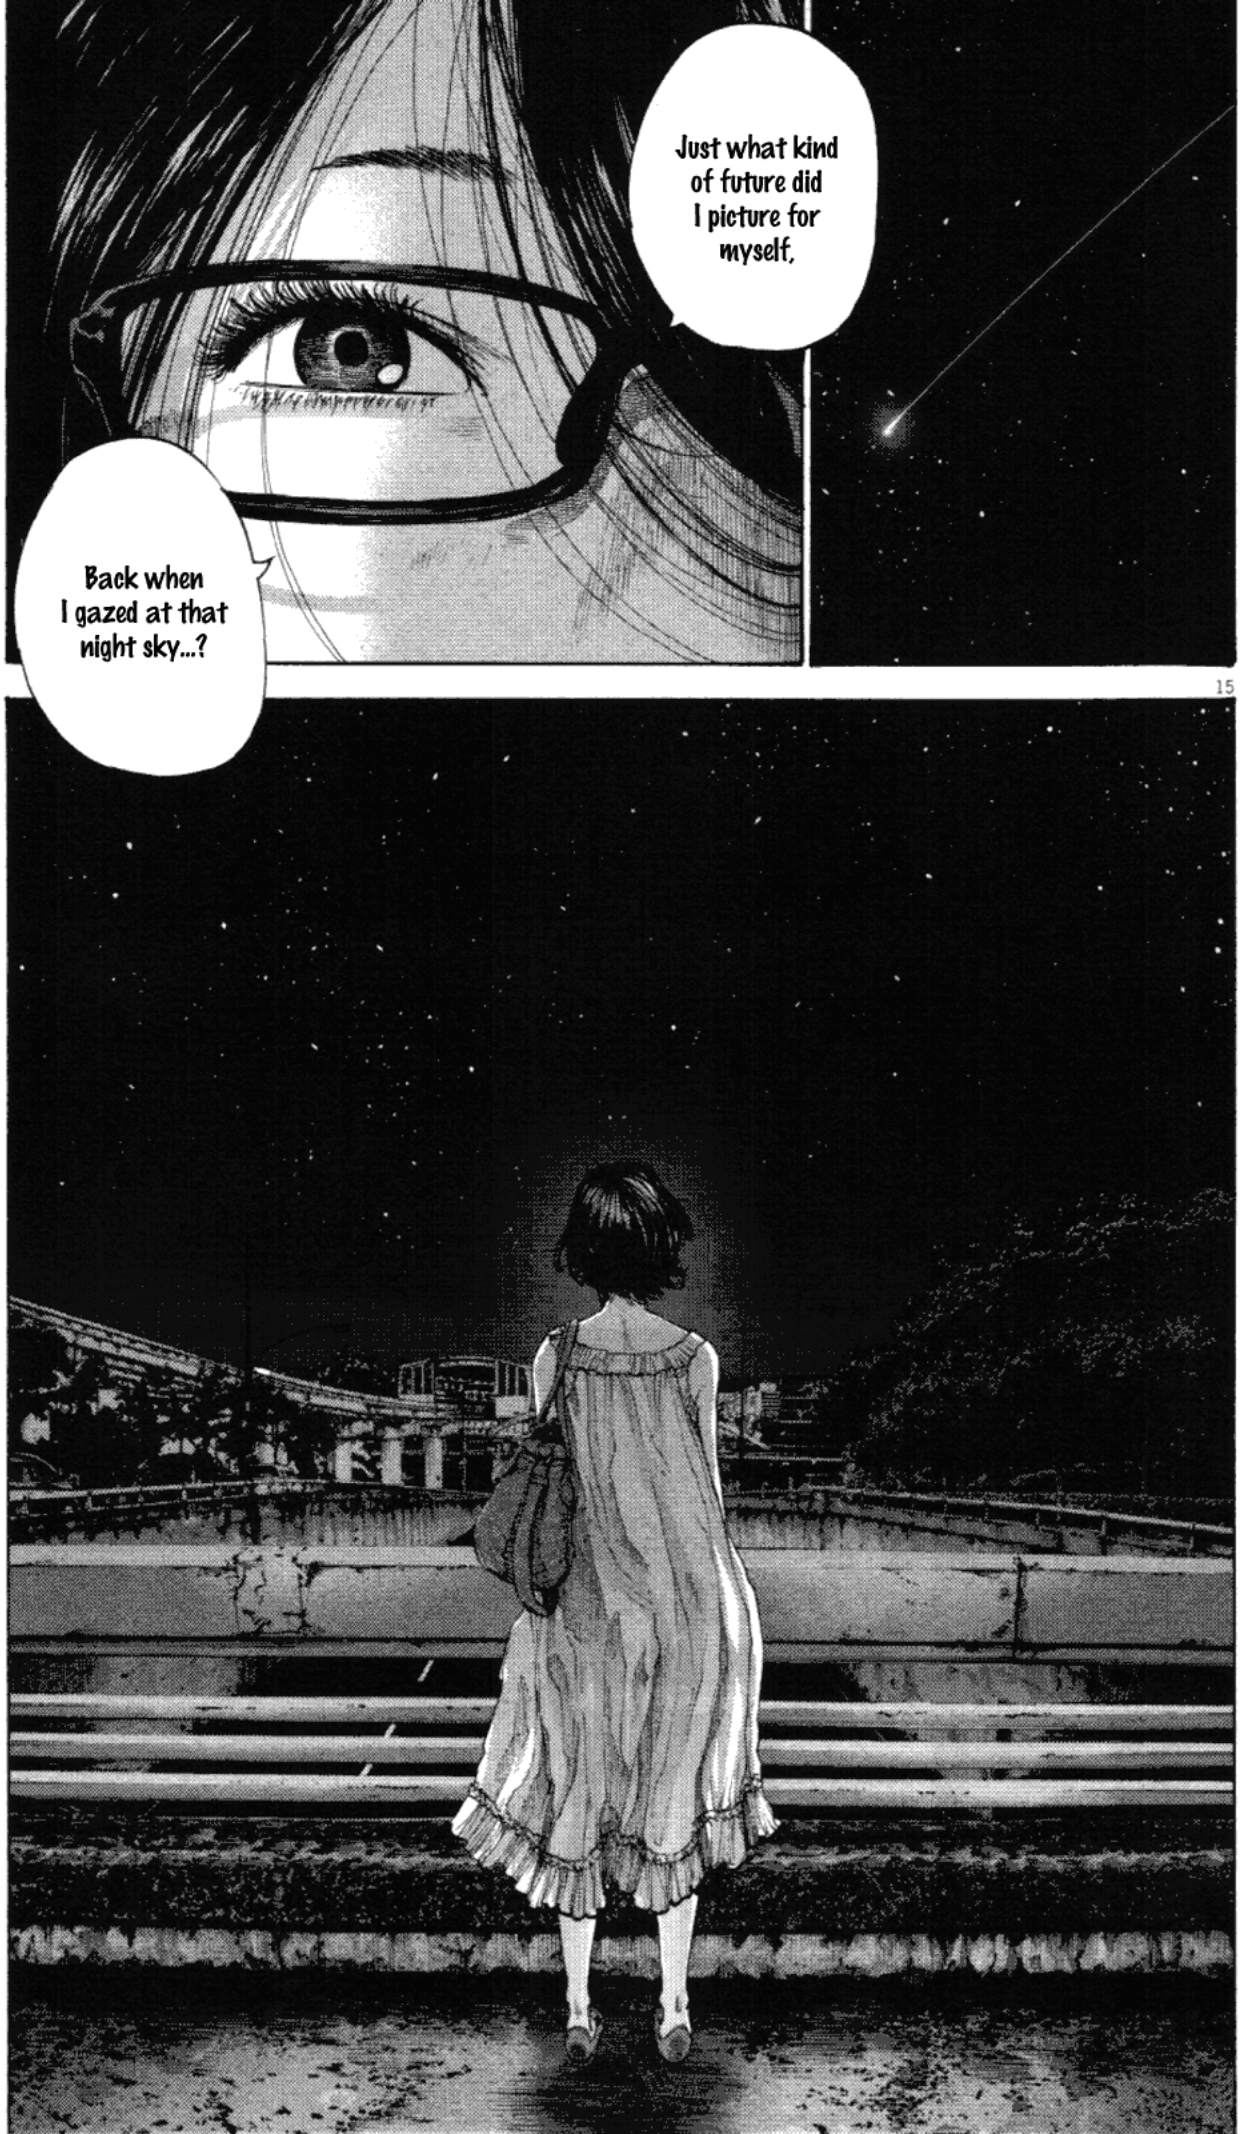
So what I drew in my painting's just a big lie.

As a kid, I insisted I could see what I couldn't,

And my lone hope was my belief that what I couldn't see still existed somewhere.

And I now feel like throwing that past away and taking one step forward.

...But I really don't know where I'm now headed, and that makes me anxious.



Just what kind of future did I picture for myself,
Back when I gazed at that night sky...?

...Kanie.
Yeah?
Mind if you walk with me a lil' longer?

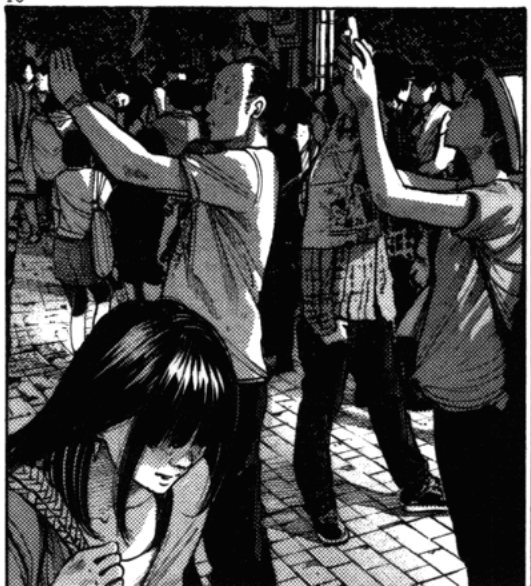
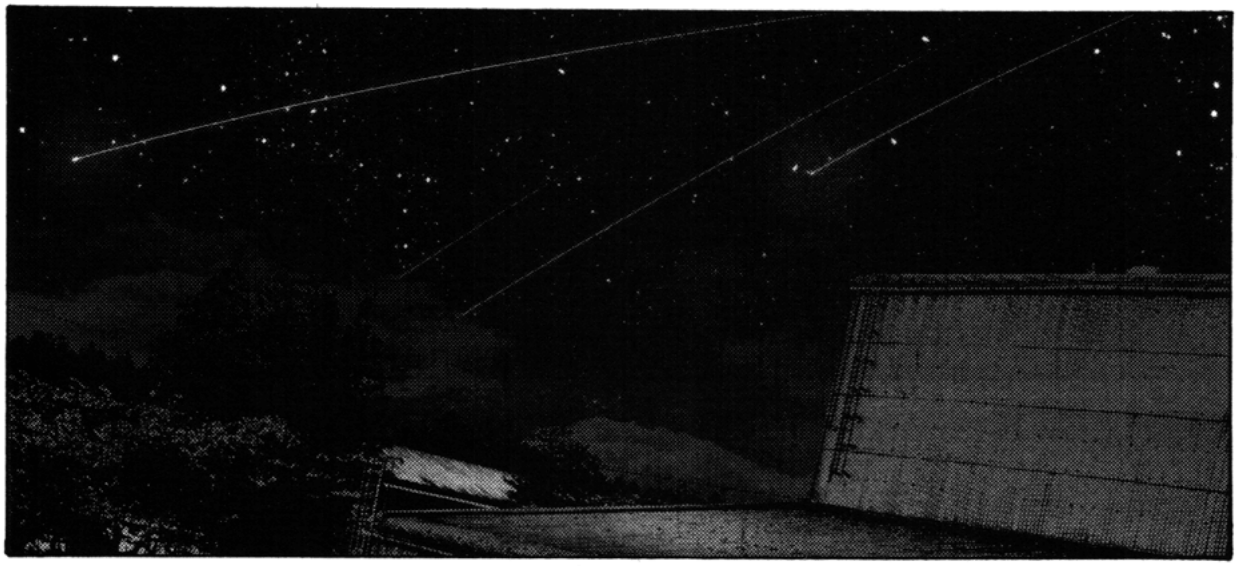
At 5:26, when he says"At the moment the Milky Way passes by hope," is he talking about the current meteor shower?



How nice it'd be if I could disappear
by burning up like that in a flash,
he thought.

The shooting stars are falling one by one.



Neither happy nor sad,
He lied down, simply tired.

Both Aiko and God are now gone.
I'll close my remaining eye and fall asleep without worrying about tomorrow...
That was how he thought.

...Goodnight.

...But I didn't let him do such a thing.

Perhaps it's just my own selfishness, but...

Wake up.

As long as Punpun continues to suffer,

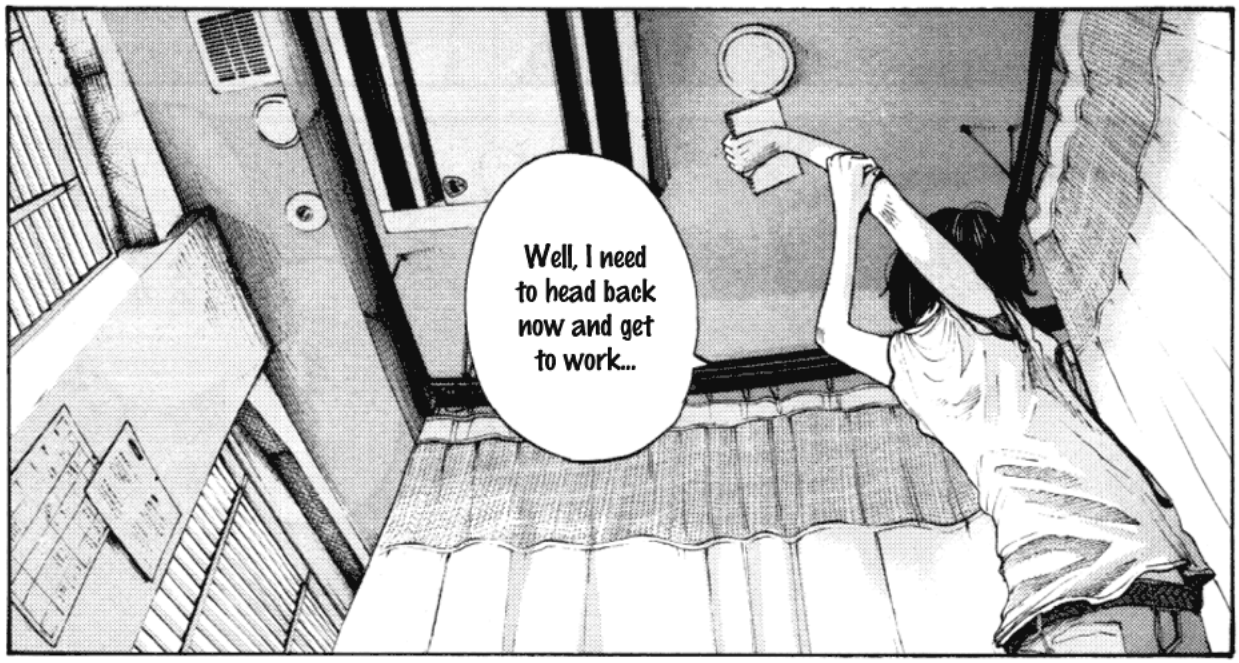
No, no.
Don't strain your body to get up. Just stay as you are.

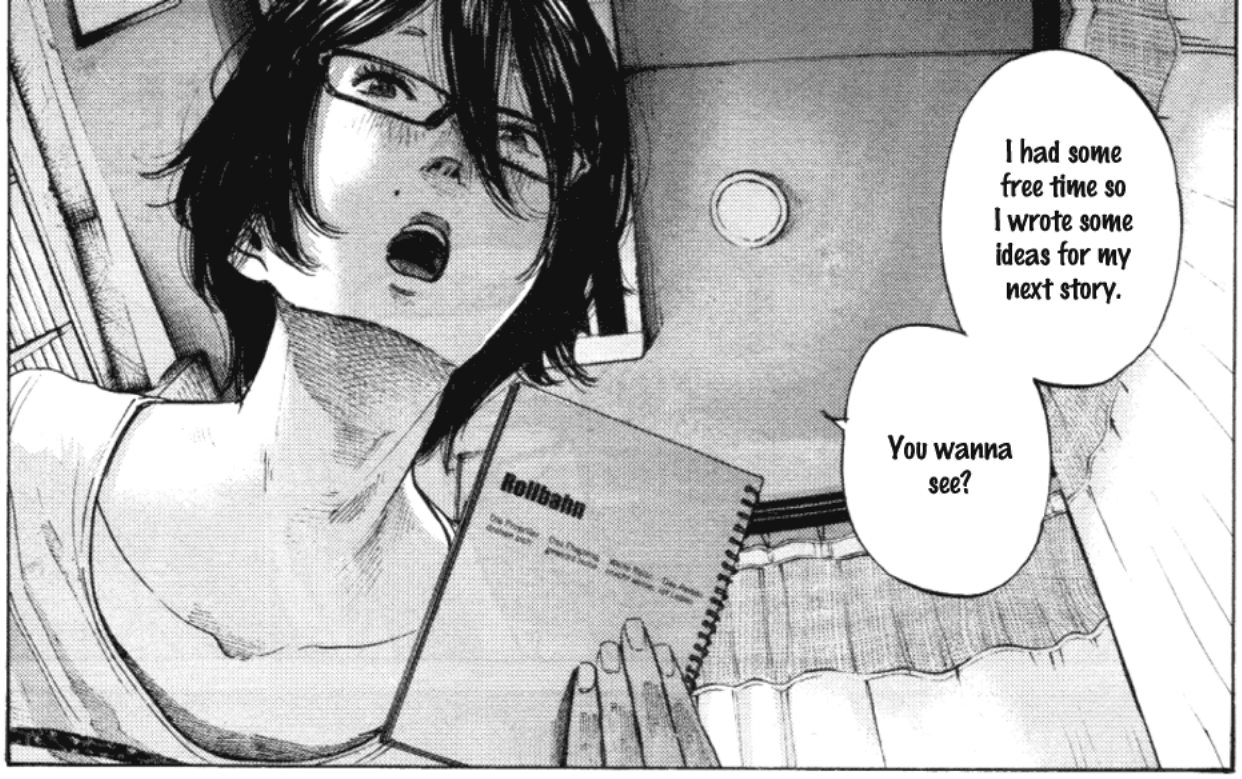
You just had surgery.
On your left eye.
You've been asleep for half a day since then.
Mimura and Misuzu came by a little while ago.

I don't really mind,
But you really should try not to worry the others...



Well, I need to head back now and get to work...

...Hm?
What, this?



I had some free time so I wrote some ideas for my next story.

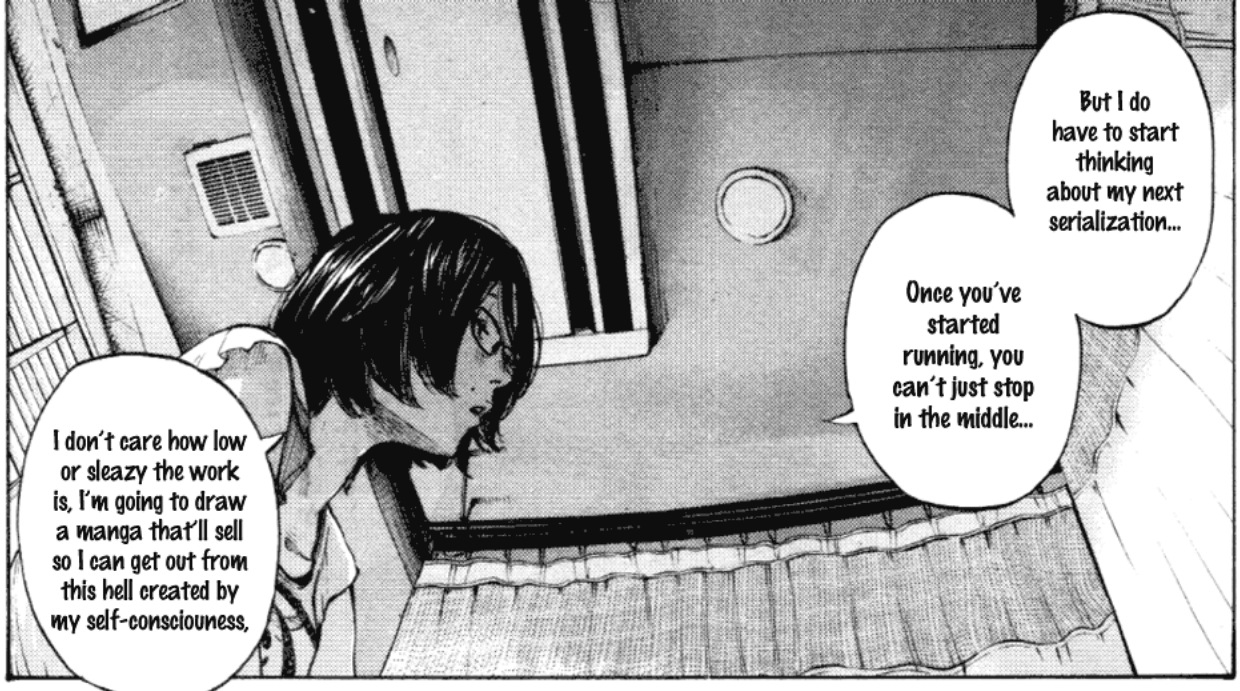
This is the main character.
What d'you think?
Too much?

...It's just a joke. My editor would be shocked beyond words if I tried a stunt like that.
Mimura was the one who doodled that.



But I do have to start thinking about my next serialization...
Once you've started running, you can't just stop in the middle...
I don't care how low or sleazy the work is, I'm going to draw a manga that'll sell so I can get out from this hell created by my self-consciouness,

...Ha,
Sorry for rambling about unrelated stuff.
I'll go home for today.

I...
I won't ask where you've been or what you've done.

But if there comes a time you feel like talking about it,
I'll be by your side ready to listen to all of it.

And if there are times you can't communicate your thoughts to others very well,
I'll be there to tell them in your place.

I'll be waiting.
I'll wait as long as it takes until then.

...I'll,
Come again tomorrow.

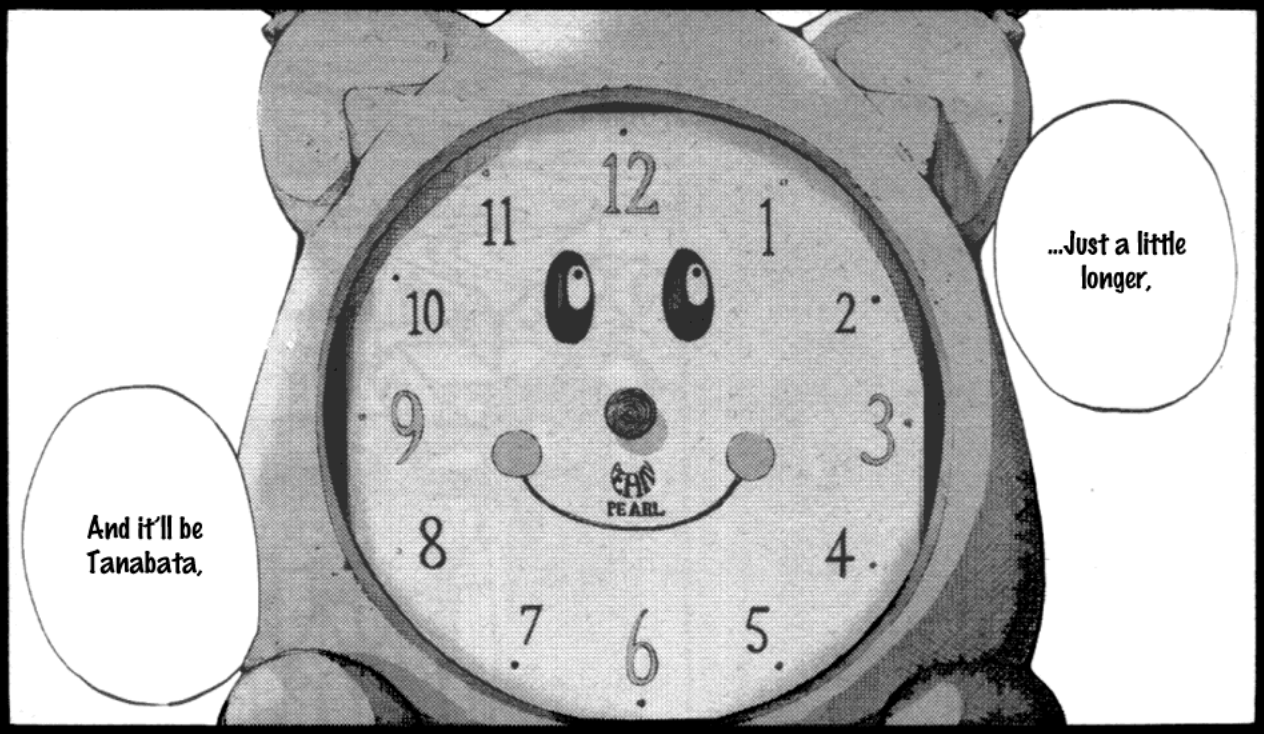
YOUNG SUNDAY COMICS

Chapter 145



...Just a little longer,
And it'll be Tanabata,
PEARL

...Last year was no good,
But hopefully I can see the Milky Way this year.

Aiko.
It's been a while.
禁煙
No Smoking
終日禁煙

I've got a lot of things to report this year too.

My probation is now over,
And since last month, I've started working at the real estate agency that my former boss at Shishido Heights introduced me to.
It's a really plain job,
But I'm trying my hardest.
2,000
As for my mangaka-friend,
The paperback vol. 1 of her newest work, the one I helped out on, just came out so she's pretty happy.
And Mimura's getting married next year.
...Me and all the others are doing well.

I'm moving along just fine...

It wasn't as difficult as I thought.

Avoiding luxury,

And greed,

While working earnestly,

To be even the slightest bit of help to others,

Since I don't have work tomorrow, maybe I'll go out somewhere.
...And when I see those around me smiling,
I feel very relieved.
...If I did have something I could call a worry,
It's the fact that my friend's daugther has grown so attached to me she thinks of me as her dad.

...Of course, I do think the child is better off having a father,
But I don't think that should be me.

...I'm fine being by myself.
That's the only selfish desire of mine.

It's very peaceful.
Like perhaps the life of a ghost.
Carefree and without worry,
I naturally let the wind take me forwards when it blows.

Exactly where I'm headed to...
Is of no real concern to me,

But eventually, when it's my time to leave, I'd like to vanish like an insignificant bubble,
And fade away from everyone's memories as well.

There are times when I look back,

To my childhood or the few months I spent with you,

But trying to put such fragmented and vague feelings into words is almost impossible.

...Rather pathetic, isn't it?

Though I don't like having to live with such feelings of shame,

It's the lone duty you've charged me with,
So I'll keep at it until the very end.
...Aiko,
I've been thinking...
About whether or not we really saw that Milky Way,
During that one time in our childhood...
Could it be that what we saw was just glorified by our imagination...?
That's what I wonder these days.

...These days, your voice is a little faint.
Aiko...
But perhaps your voice was always that way.

JUNGLE HOUSE
Is that really how you looked?

"If you ever betray me again,
I'll kill you then."

Aiko,
I already know...

I already know you can no longer kill me.

"You wouldn't lie, would you, Punpun?"

I'm sorry,
For being a liar.

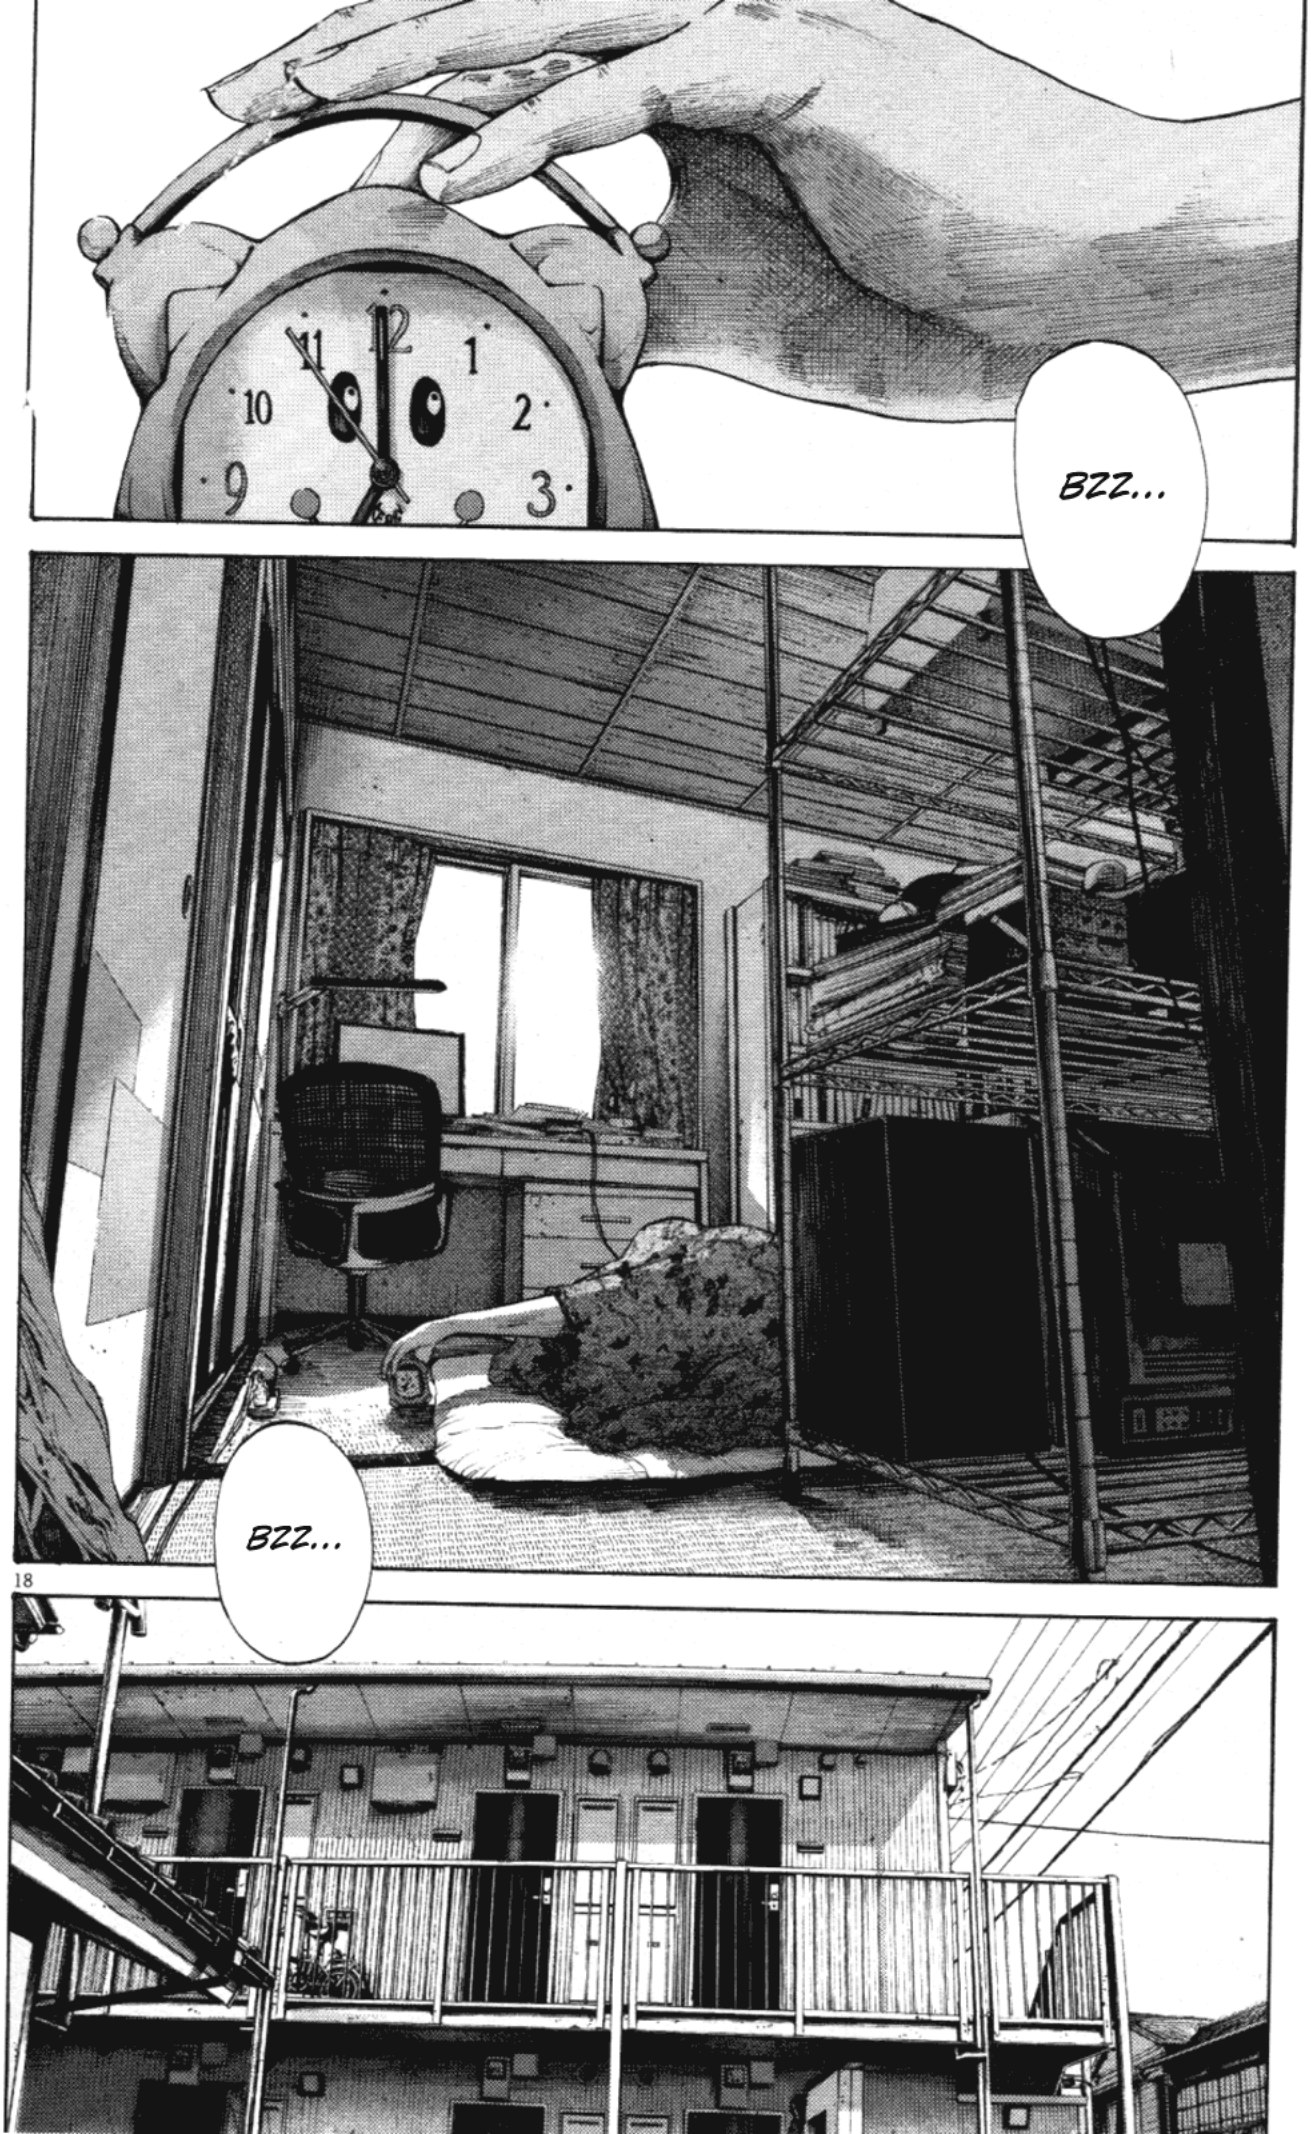
...I'm certain,

I won't be able to see the Milky Way this year or the next,
And all future Tanabata nights will be too cloudy.

...And yet the world won't end nor will humanity perish.
I have to keep on moving forwards...

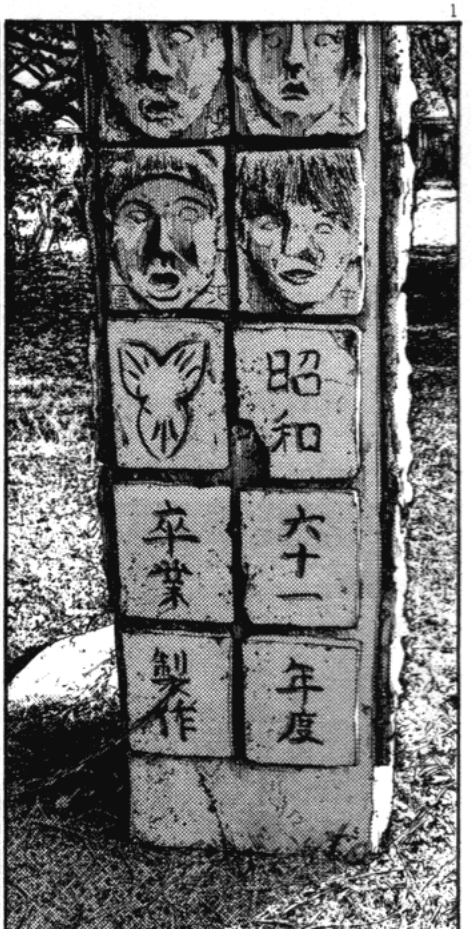
BZZZ...

Good-bye.

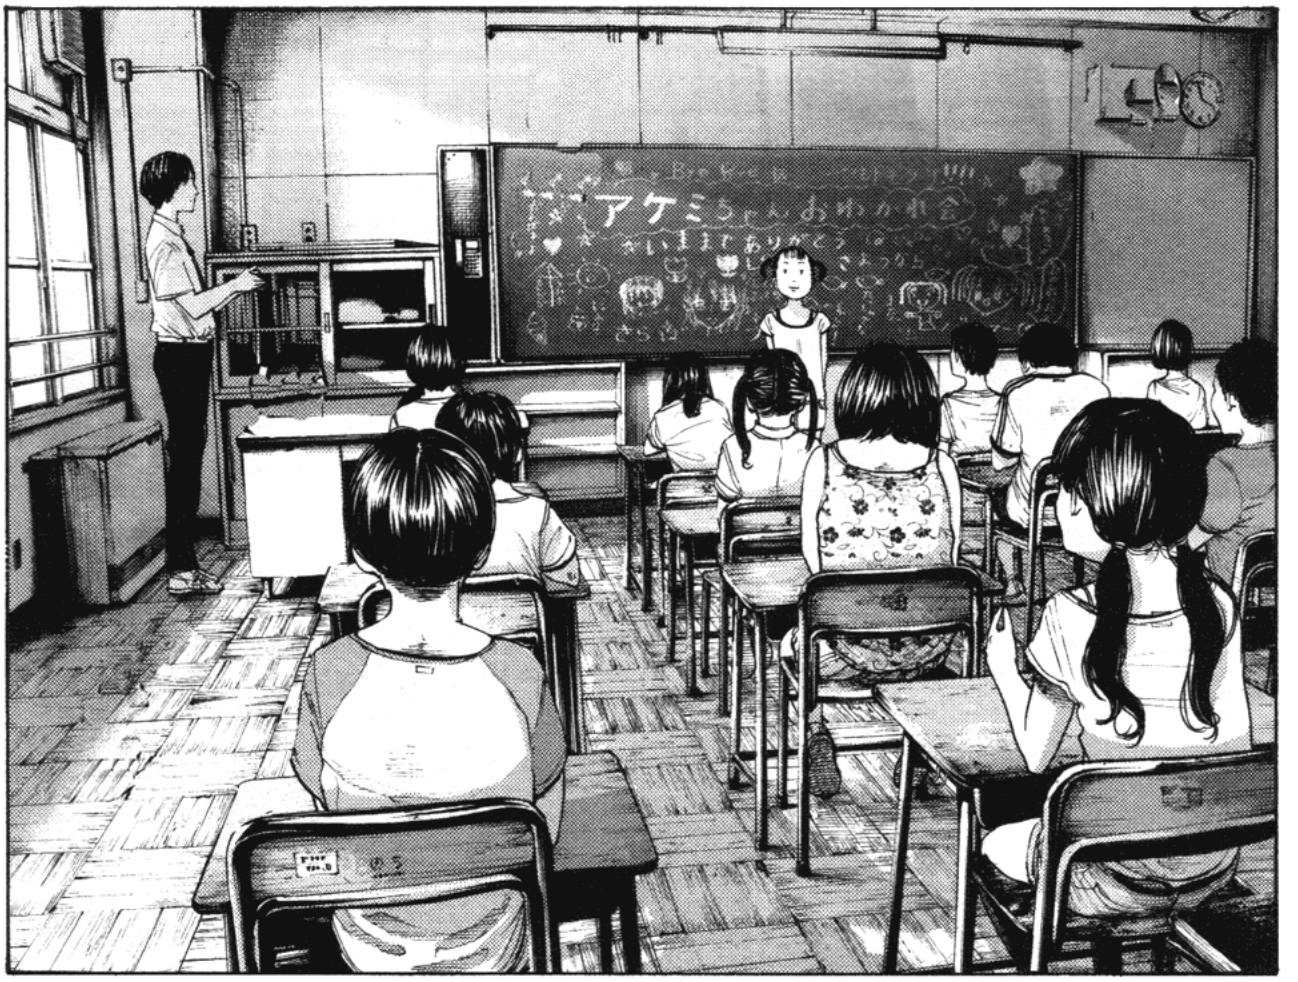


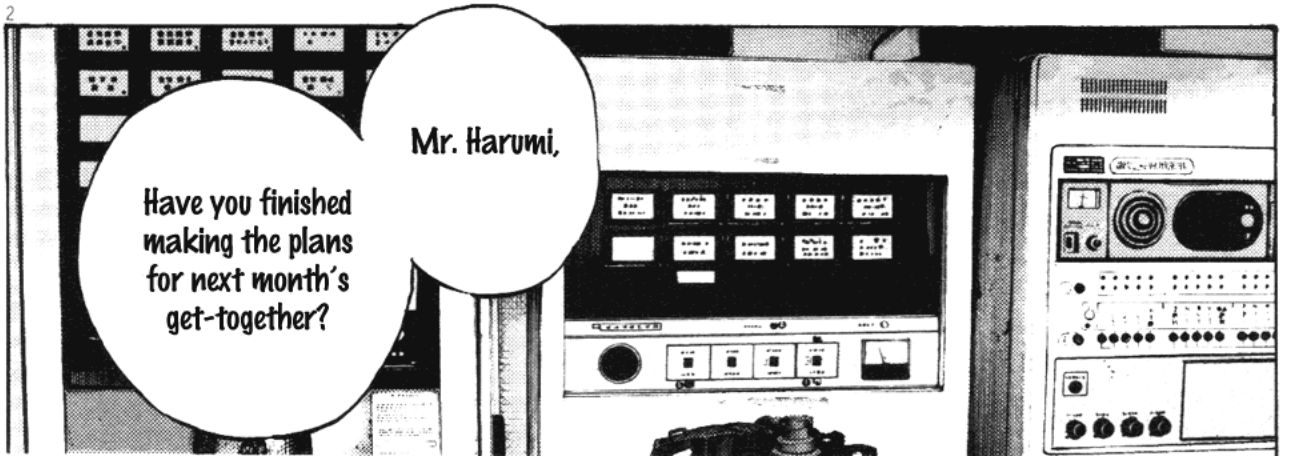
BZZ...
BZZ...

Chapter 146



I won't ever forget the time I've spent with you all.
Thank you for everything until now.





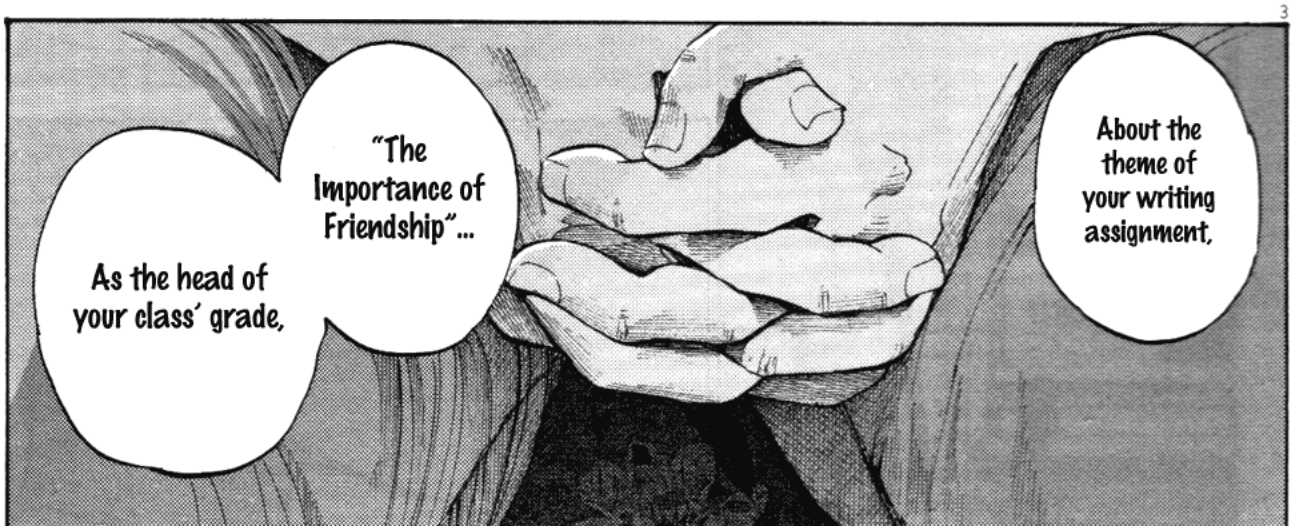
Mr. Harumi,
Have you finished making the plans for next month's get-together?

So how was it? Holding a farewell party for a student in your very first class, I mean.
...Ah, so you did.

Oh,
I actually sent the forms for it to you last weekend by e-mail.

Oh, you're so sensitive.
It went well, but...
I have to say, I feel a little lonely now that she's gone...

But deep down inside,
You really couldn't care less, am I right?

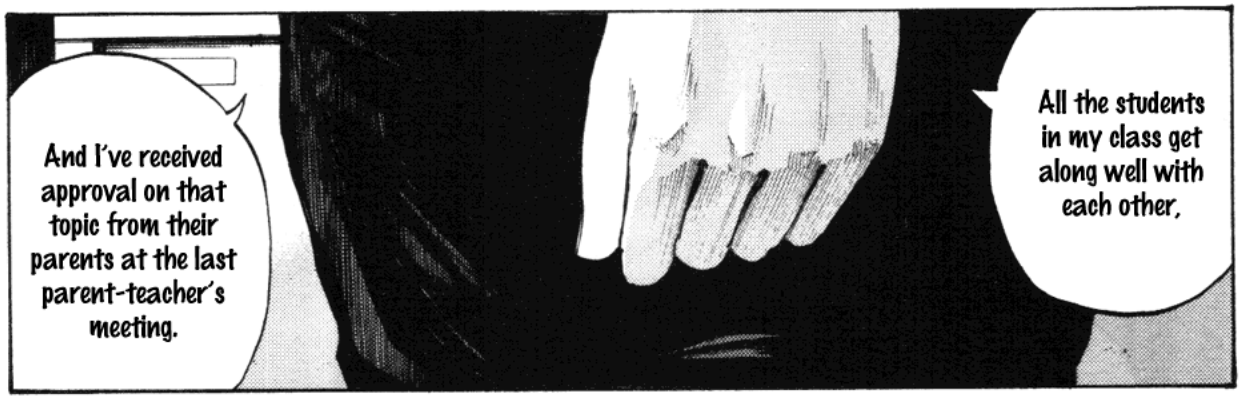


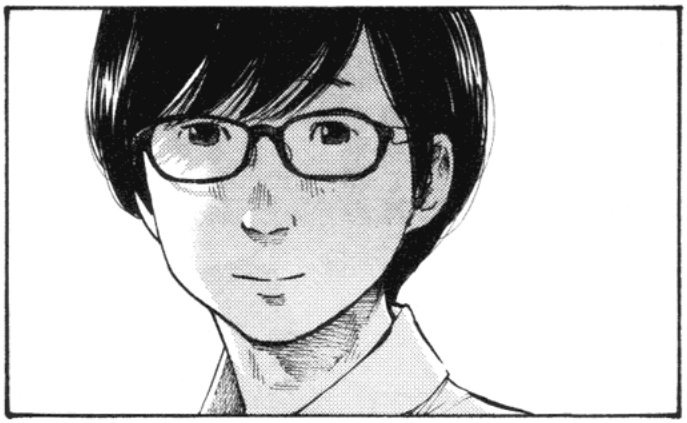
About the theme of your writing assignment,
"The Importance of Friendship"...
As the head of your class' grade,

Haven't you considered the possibility that a student who hasn't grown close with his classmates yet might be hurt by such a topic?

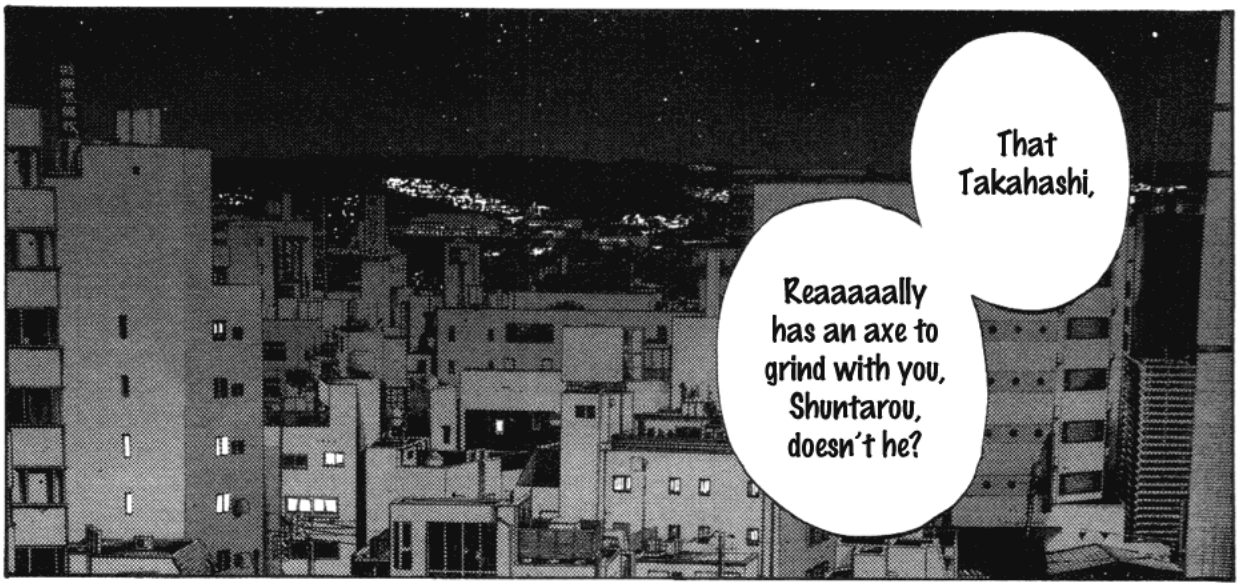
I must ask you to be more careful on such matters.

...With all due respect, Mr. Takahashi,





...Yes, that's fair for everyone.
I approve it...



That Takahashi,
Reaaaaally has an axe to grind with you, Shuntarou, doesn't he?

Well...
That just shows how serious he takes his work.

I can understand there being sensitivity towards that topic from the parents since the bullying problem a while back,

But I have my doubts whether "Dreams for the Future" is a really much fairer topic or not...

That Takahashi fusses too much over one thing while ignoring other points!

...Then what're you having the kids in your class write about?

So forcing the students to think about their future can be problematic in its own way.

...I mean, everyone comes from different family backgrounds with its own circumstances,

Shuntarou, you're too agreeable with people!

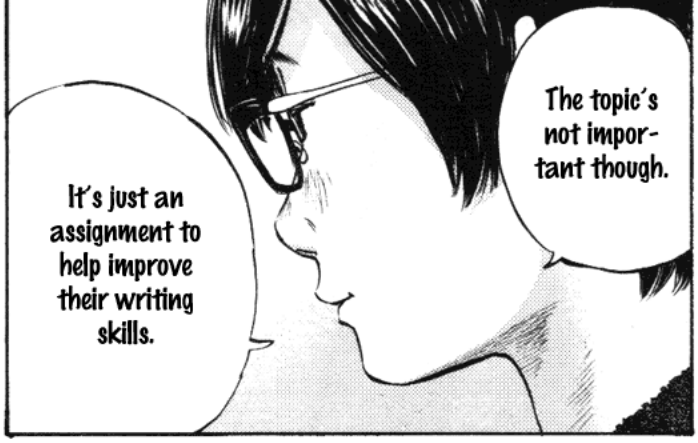
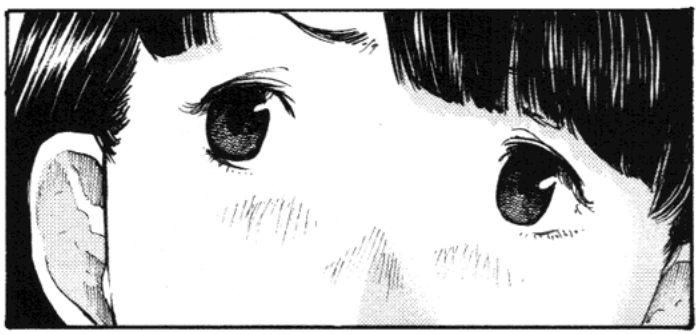
"The most recent time you showed bravery."

Oh, I see...

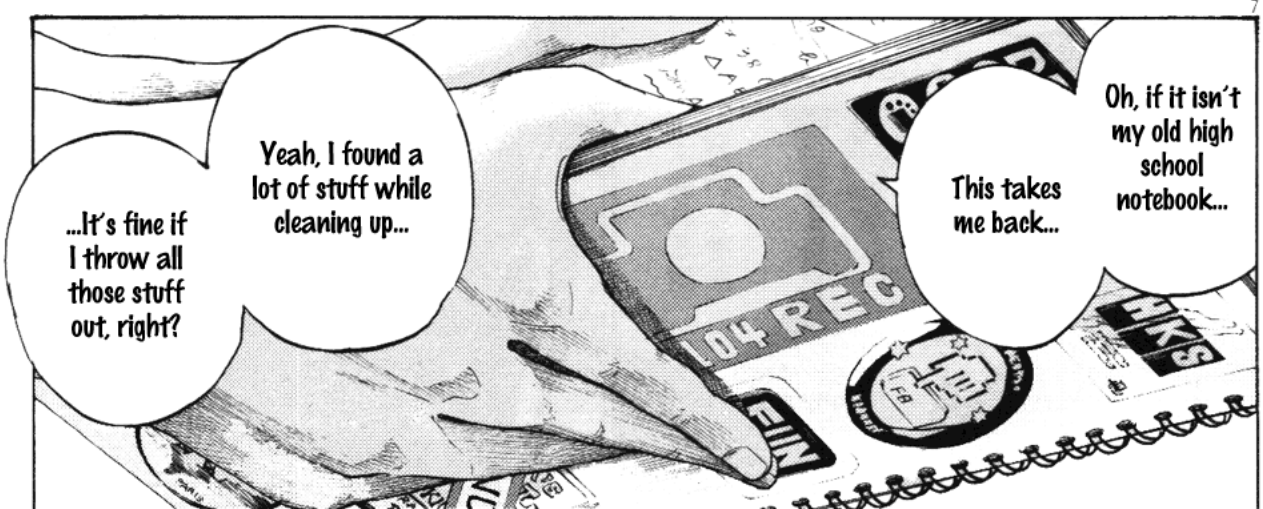


It's just an assignment to help improve their writing skills.
The topic's not important though.

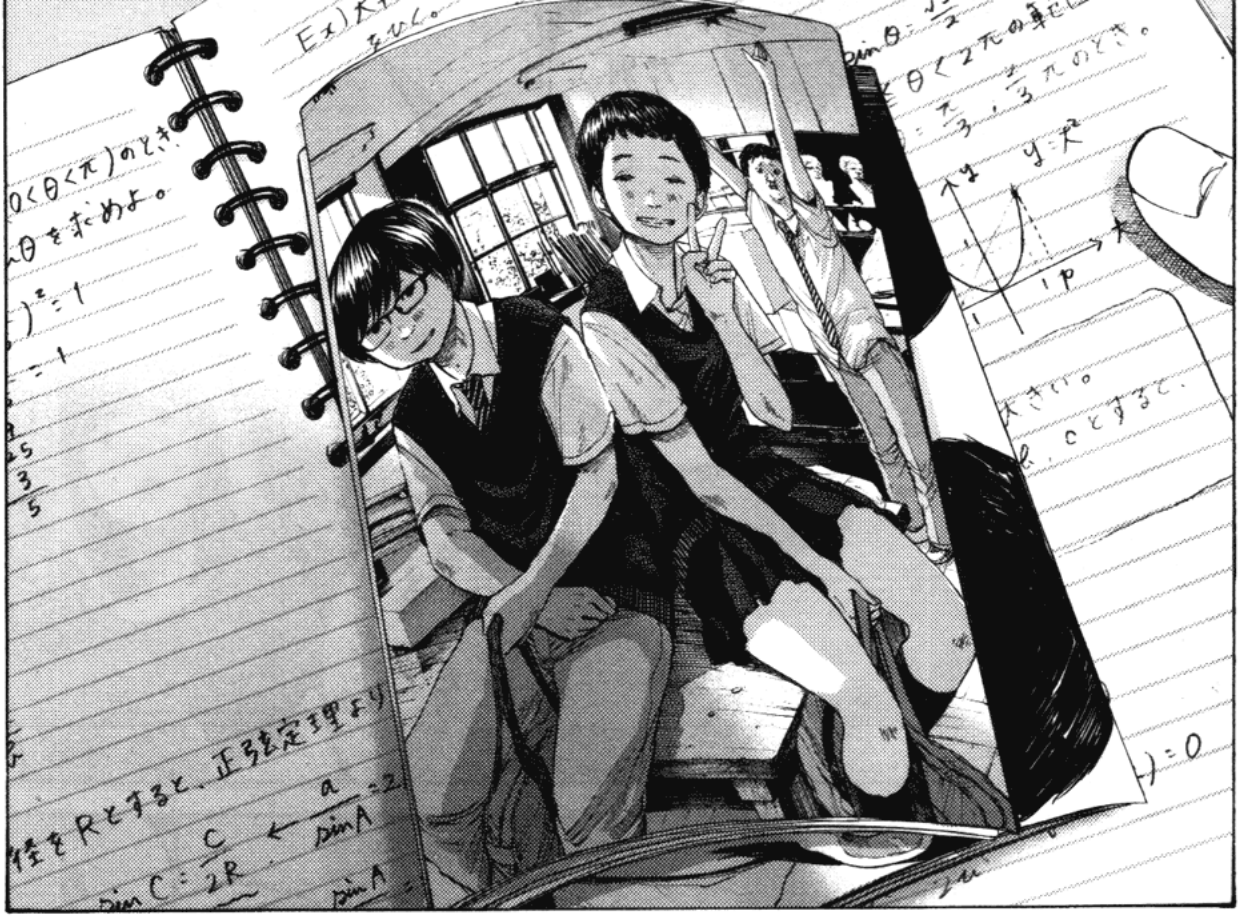
Ah! You just scoffed at me, didn't you!?
No, no, I'm just impressed by how well it fits you...



Ah-
Thanks for collecting all these stuff to throw out for me, by the way.
Hey, you're purposely changing the topic, aren't you?



...It's fine if I throw all those stuff out, right?
Yeah, I found a lot of stuff while cleaning up...
This takes me back...
Oh, if it isn't my old high school notebook...
L04 REC



...Yeah.
I don't need them anymore.

...Don't forget,
We're going out to try the dress next Sunday.

How could I forget?
I'm really looking forward to it.

At the recent dinners we've had together with my folks,

It seems like you and my parents are now getting along,

But even they're just pretending they can understand young people,

So don't go thinking that you can maitain your place forever just by putting on a smile.

Oh my gosh!

You came, Harumi!

Sono! Harumi's here!

You mean we're not all here to compare how well-off our lives are?
...Don't deny it, it's the same for you. Am I right, Mr. Teacher?
You're as hard on me as ever, Seki...
Y'mean we're all just pretendin' nothing's changed.
The people who come to these reunions are always those who have the time to put on such a front.

You two are a perfect pair.
He's a very kind person.
Oh, no, not at all...
...Kind is all he is.

You're free to go take a walk outside.

I'm not bored at all...
...Sorry, but I'd like to have some time to think alone.

I'm sure this is what they call "normal."

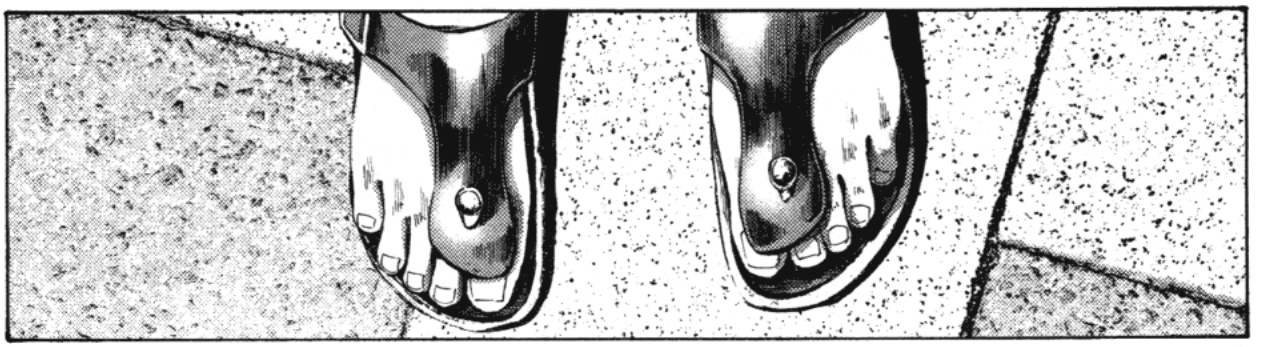
This life is so easy it feels like my mind is ready to snap at any time.

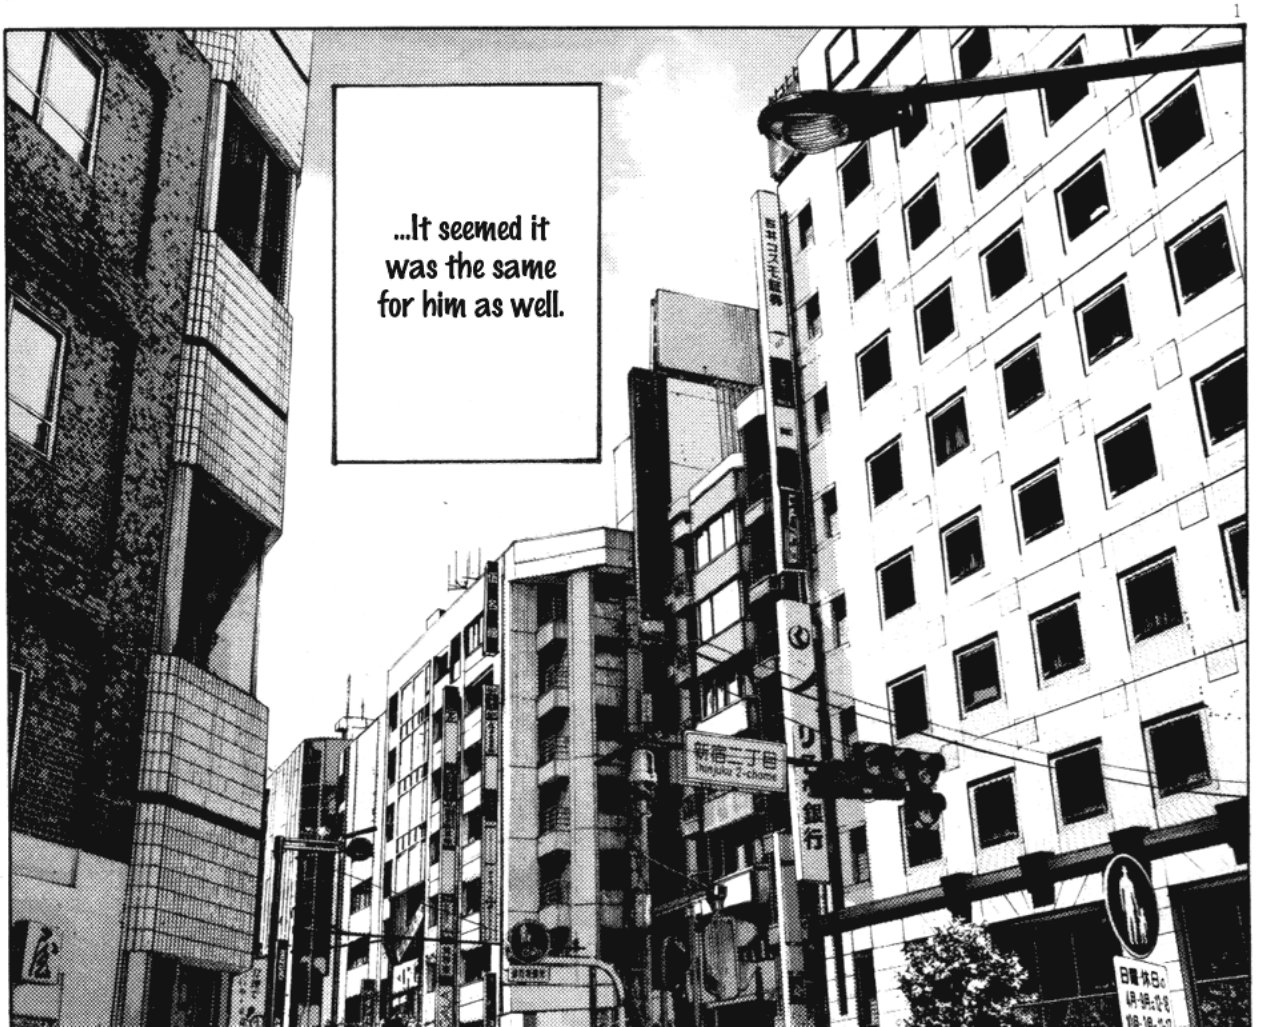
This year's Tanabata's been predicted to be on a clear day despite being in the midst of the rainy season.

I suddenly felt that I had to kill someone, so I started strolling through the streets teeming with shoppers.

...That was when I met him again.

Final Chapter





Our disjointed and indifferent conversation continued.

It couldn't be helped since I was no longer the me who knew him, and the same surely applied to him as well.

By the time the conversation topic changed to the weather,

Perhaps both of us realized that fact, for we felt it was time to separate.

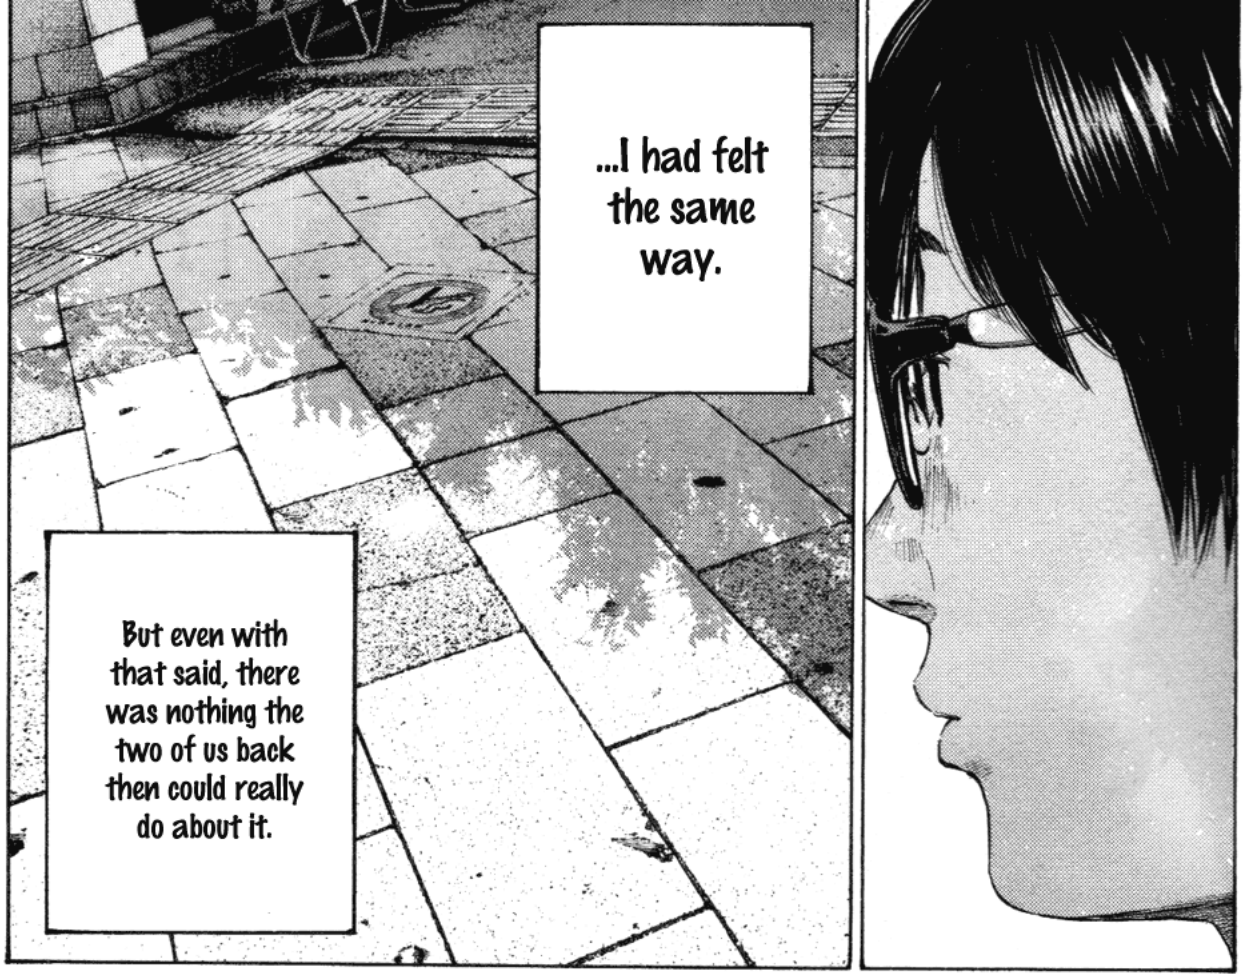
After a momentary silence,

He said there was something he's been meaning to tell me for the longest time.

"The porno-video we called EBJ was actually EVJ."

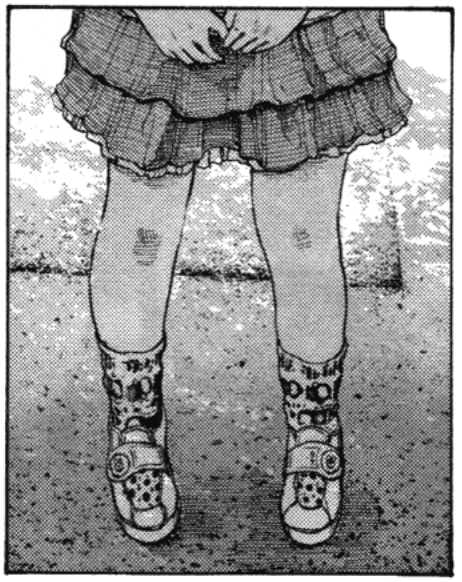
As I thought, "Is that what's been on your mind all this time?" in my mind, he continued...

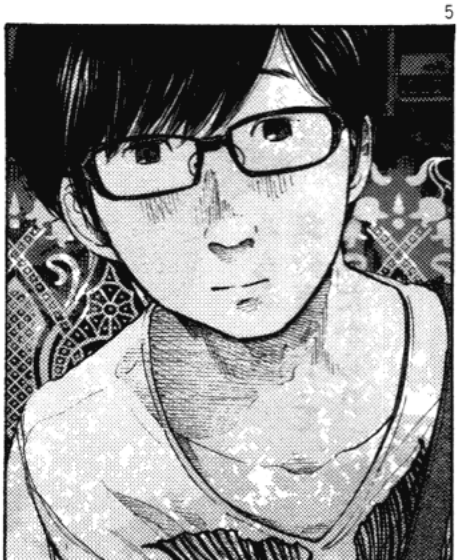
"...Also, when you transferred schools, I was really lonely."



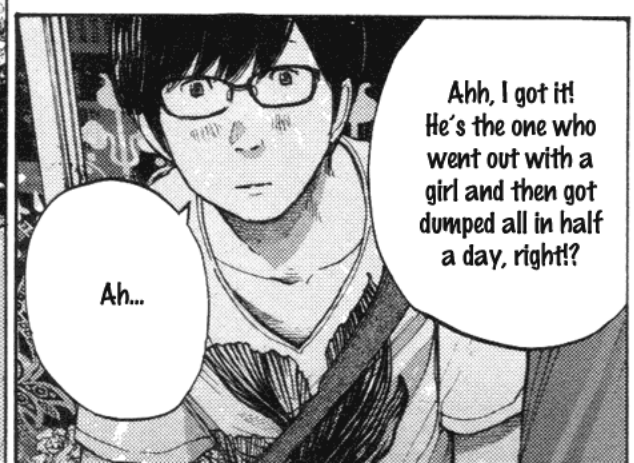
...I had felt the same way.
But even with that said, there was nothing the two of us back then could really do about it.

We make difference in quality and freshness
Hey.





Don't go around loitering on your own, you jackass.



I also felt no particular need to ask him about the wound on his left-eye.
But his expression told me that wasn't the case. Still, I did not wish to inquire further.
As we separated, I commented, "Oh, so you're married."

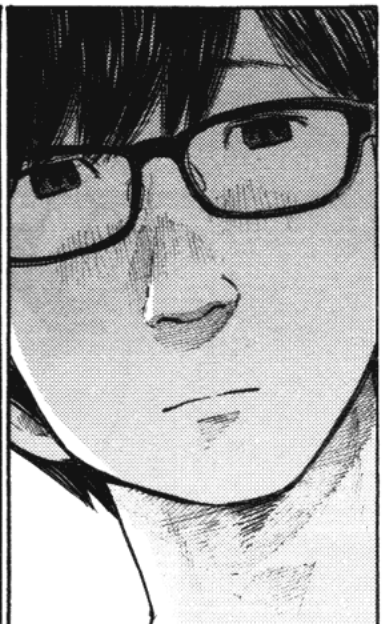
I feel like there's a rift in our conversations.
...What're you really thinking deep down inside?

Are you saying...
You're prepared to accept all of me...?

I...

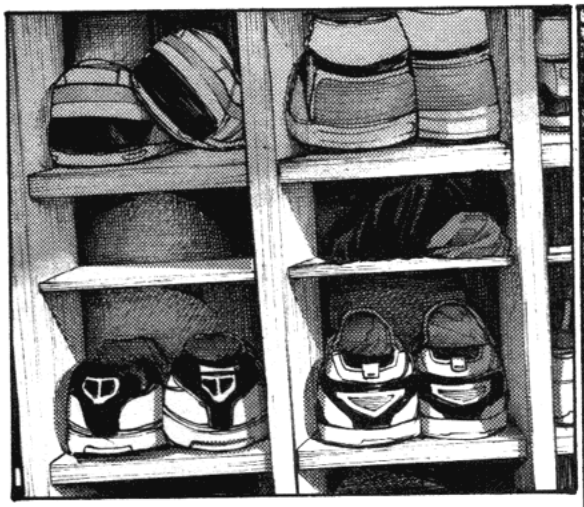


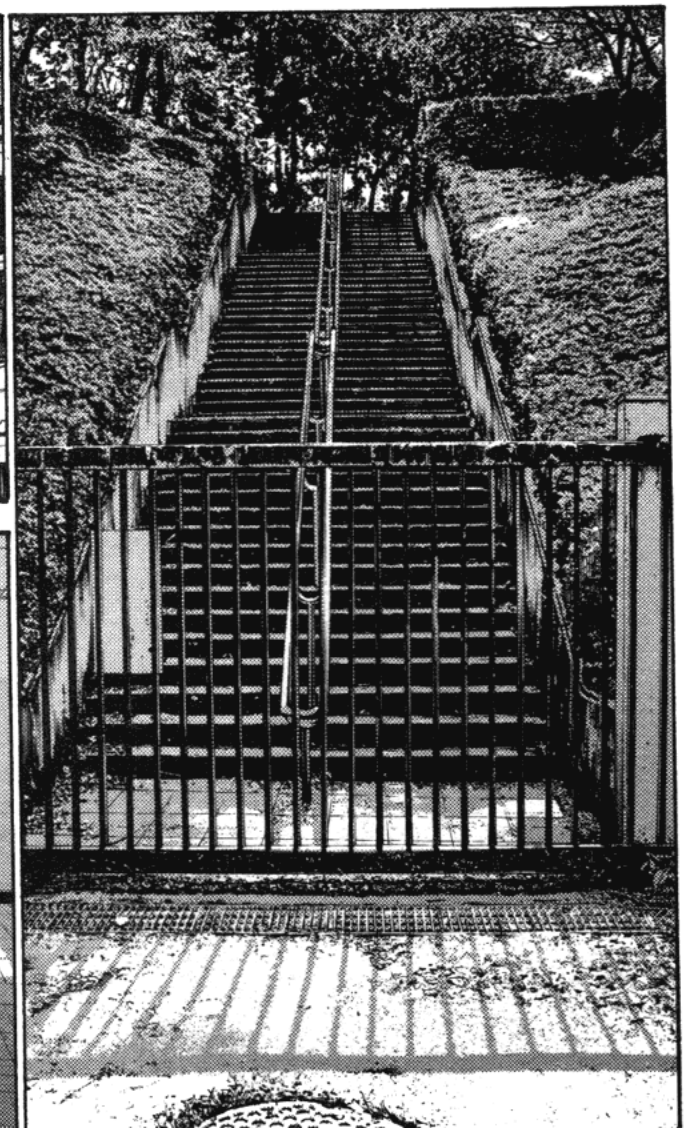
But I just...
I just can't forgive Takahashi's abuse...!
I know there're some things,
That're better off not asked...

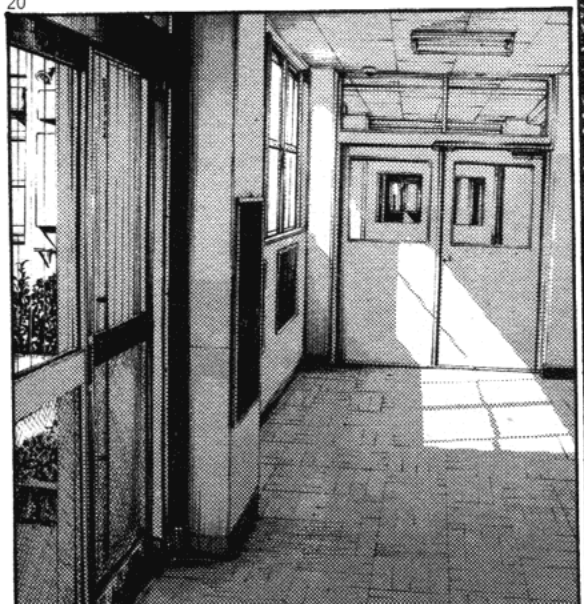
You're still dragging out that topic!?
Are you serious?
Wait, what!?

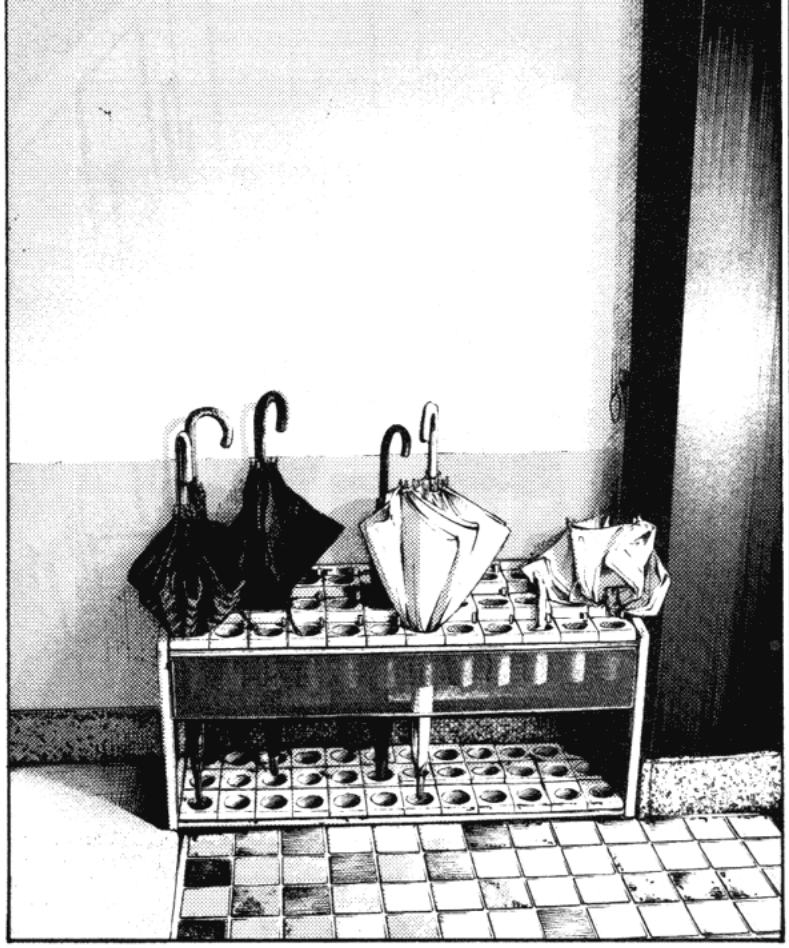
...You know, even I get annoyed every now and then.
He's... A real asshole...
Right, you hate him too, don't you!?

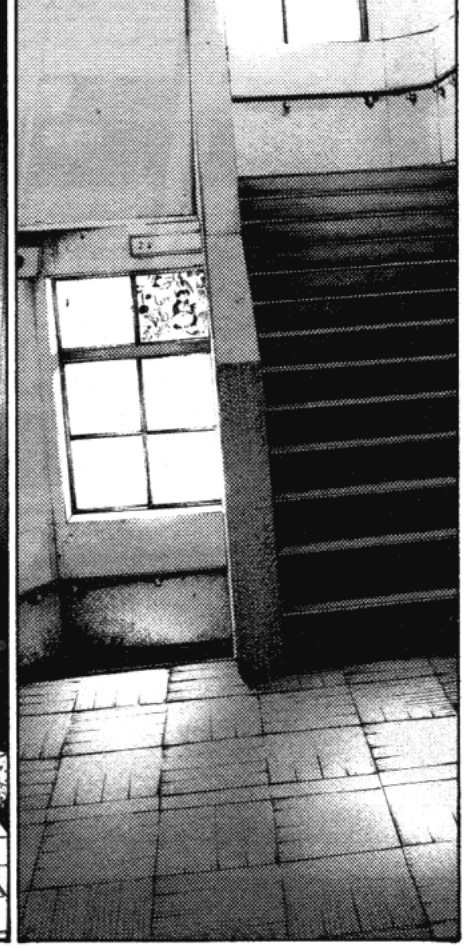
If I'm the only one who hates him, then I'd be that one bitch who hates people for no good reason and I don't wanna be that kind of person...

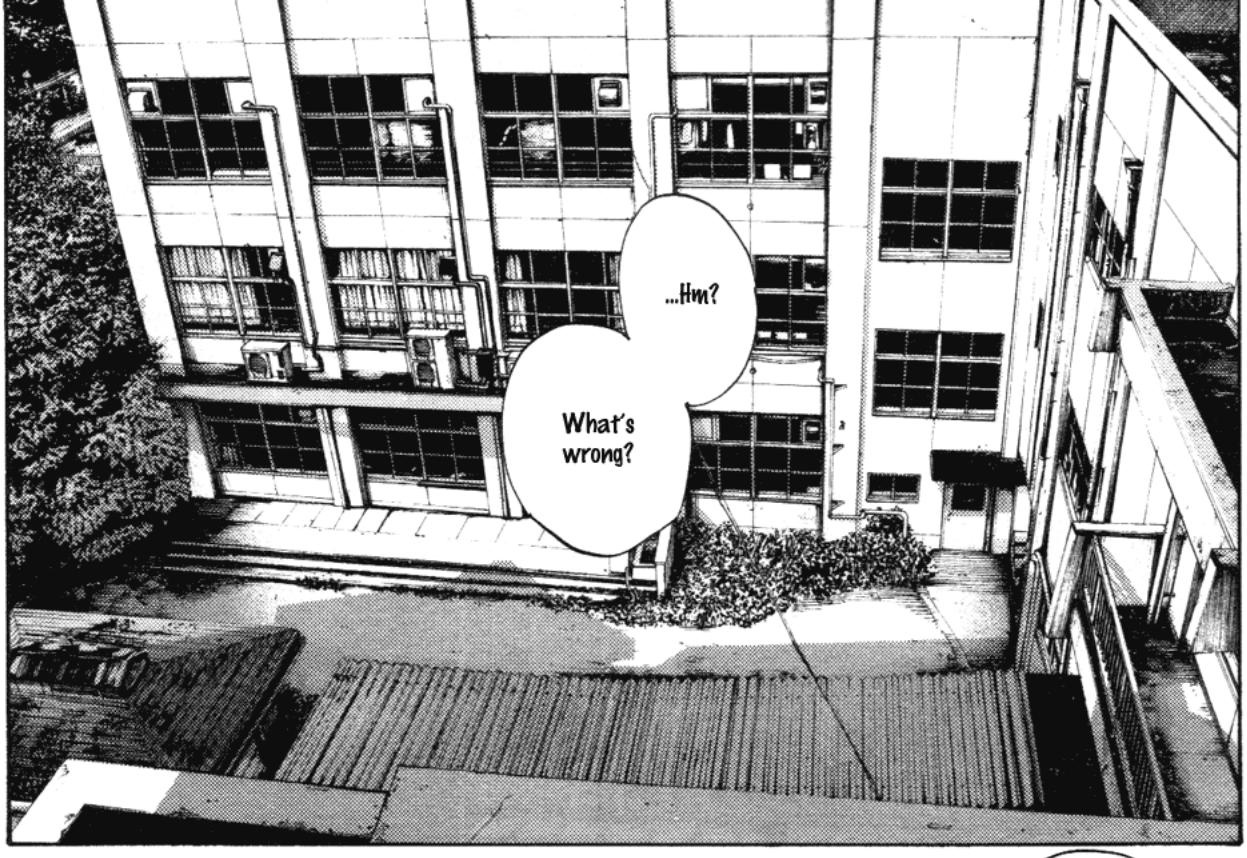




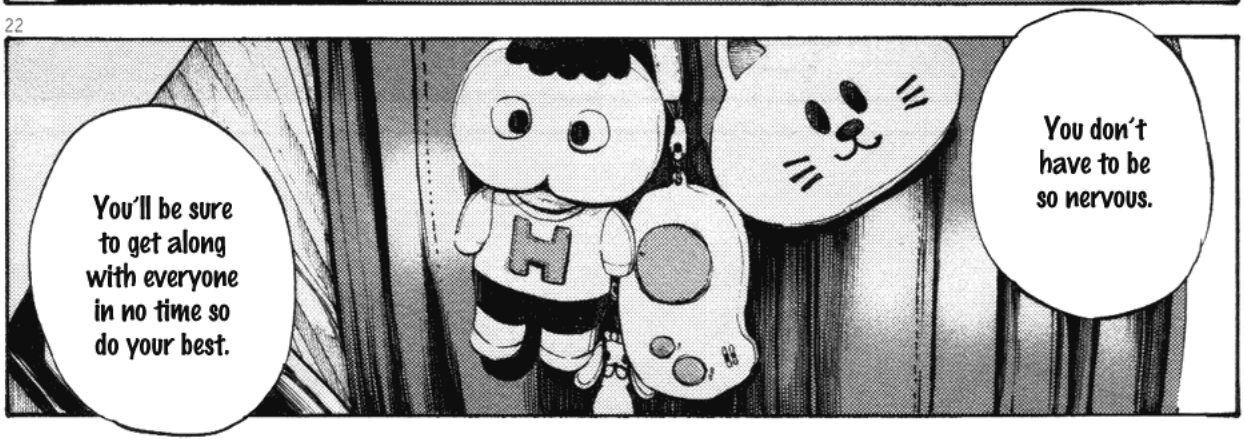








...Hm?
What's wrong?



You don't have to be so nervous.
You'll be sure to get along with everyone in no time so do your best.

...That's the same thing.
The teacher at my last school said.

You're right.

I don't know you right now, and to be frank, I don't have any particular interest in you as of yet.

However, I'm being truthfully serious when I tell you to do your best.

...I don't need such easy-going encouragements.

It's not as if you know anything about me.

I'll do anything for your sake as your teacher.

So learn to rely more on adults.
